

Imaging Of Hematuria

Musturay Karçaaltıncaba

Hacettepe University Hospitals, Turkey

Hematuria is a very common symptom. CT Urography allows diagnosis of a variety of pathologies causing hematuria. Technical tips and pitfalls will be briefly reviewed including dual-energy CT. CT Urography is the reference standard for ruling out upper urinary tract transitional cell cancers. Common and rare (but diagnosable by imaging) causes of hematuria will be discussed. Complimentary role of MR Urography will be outlined.